By ARNOLD LAUBER

EDMUND Wilson, towards the end of his much and perhaps overrated career in Israel, reported that he found the tension in this country (where the incidents were going on), as such confusion, as such a sense of nerves as in America and Europe. It is an aspect of Israel life which is not generally appreciated. It opens unexpected vistas to the Israeli tourist services, for instance, which may well be given preference to the peace-of-mind theme before the spring-in-Galilee posters. It is one of the city's advantages, life far from any metropolis. In Washington and London, the worries of the whole world are registered and have their repercussions. Frustration with the immediate problems facing Israel, however, leaves little time and less inclination to worry about the rest of the world at large in 1966. There is nothing disparaging in that remark, and those of our friends who complain about Israel provincialism and narrow-mindedness have apparently not understood that this development is perfectly natural and that it would be superhuman (and probably inhuman) to expect anything else. There has not yet been a man with a really strong toothache that did not forget about the apocalypse.

TV Washington and London have pondered the implication of thermonuclear development as frankly at their wit's end. Like Mr. Thomas Paine, he has been working on the subject (whether or not they reach the conclusions that whatever solutions are proposed today can only postpone general war, or whether or not a conformation more certain in the end, and the only alternative would be an enforced universal disarmament, clearly implies universal world dictatorship. All this is frighteningly simple, and people in this country have surely read about it. But there is all the difference in the world between reading something in a book or a newspaper and digesting it. Up to now it has not reached the deeper layers of consciousness. For people in this country, those in authority as well as the others, have to tackle first this first.

The terrible dangers facing the world are not the only crisis we have to face at home, the good old pre- or extra-atomic crisis becomes ever more grotesque. In Washington and Moscow they consider the chances of survival of mankind — in Jerusalem they quarrel about the timing of the Maccabean Festival. There are the 25 and 25% crises.

AND yet, human nature being what it is, our little crises must be regarded as one and the more harmless forms of escapism. For if we should not have them, there would be much graver crises in their place and we may be even compelled to face squarely the dangers threatening mankind at this hour. The however, would hardly be very helpful, for people (however perspicacious) in a small country far away from the center of gravity in the political world cannot influence the course of events much anyway. Provincialism has its well-known disadvantages: Movies, books, fashions arrive with some delay. But there are advantages too, as some people have at least understood. Freedom from worry, or rather a preoccupation with small worries which keep the really big ones away. This then should be enjoyed. Jerusalem, January 16.

Syria Violating Geneva Rules On War Prisoners

Israel has accused Syria of keeping in Damascus under conditions violating the Geneva Convention on prisoners of war, according to an official announcement.

The Israeli delegation to the Israel-Syrian Mixed Armistice Commission on Friday night called on the Chairman, Colonel Castagnary, to conduct an immediate investigation into the conditions under which the Israeli prisoners were being held. He was also asked to convene an emergency meeting to discuss the situation.

The Geneva Convention provides that prisoners of war are to be kept in a camp (not a prison), they are to be treated with humanity and are to be permitted free access to their families.

In reply to Israel's request that the International Red Cross send a delegate to Damascus to ensure that the treatment of the Israeli prisoners accords with the Geneva Convention, the Red Cross has informed the Foreign Ministry that its representative is already on his way to the Syrian capital, the Foreign Ministry spokesman announced last night.

Request to Geneva

He added that as soon as the decision of the Israel-Syrian Mixed Armistice Commission was received last Wednesday, stressing specifically that the Israeli soldiers should be regarded as prisoners of war, the Ministry had asked the permanent Israeli delegate to the European headquarters of the U.N. at Geneva, Dr. Mebabe, to request the International Red Cross to safeguard the position of the prisoners.

According to Damascus Radio, the committee of physicians, including a UNRWA doctor, which examined the soldier's body, agreed unanimously that he had committed suicide.

A U.N. Truce Supervision Organization communiqué states that the body was recovered from the sea. The communiqué also stated that the body was recovered from the sea.

The U.N. states that a military observer saw and spoke to the body on Tuesday and they were found in good health and spirits.

Beirut Rejects Ankara Bid to Join Alliance

The Lebanese Government would not consider joining Turkey and Iraq in a defense pact without first consulting the other Arab states. Foreign Minister Afrad Maqsood, announced last night in Beirut, following yesterday's talks with the visiting Turkish mission headed by Premier Adnan Menderes.

He had earlier disclosed that Mr. Menderes had invited the Lebanese to participate in the proposed Turkey-Iraq defense alliance. He made the announcement after yesterday's meeting between the Lebanese and Turkish Foreign Ministers.

Nasser said that the Turkish Foreign Minister, Adnan Menderes, assured that his Government does not intend to negotiate a defense alliance with Israel.

Mr. Menderes, who is remaining in Beirut for three days, last night assured President Camille Chamoun and Prime Minister Nuri al-Said, that Turkey was prepared to defend the Lebanese frontiers against any attack.

The Turkish mission conferred with Nasser this morning, discussing economic questions. In the afternoon another conference was held.

Meanwhile, it was revealed that the Jordan Premier, Tawfik Abu Haddad, arrived yesterday in Beirut on a "private" visit. But informed sources believed that his arrival is in connection with the Lebanese presence in the Lebanese capital.

In a five-hour session last night, the Syrian Parliament was held by the Foreign Minister, Faidi Attar, that the Government was not informed on the Turkey-Iraq Baghdad negotiations. He asserted Syria could not remain isolated and that Mr. Menderes had been notified in Damascus that the Government's attitude to the proposed alliance would depend on Turkey's support of Arab cases on the International Forum.

Arab Countries Informed

In Cairo last night, the Iraqi Ambassador, Najib al-Rawi, following a meeting with the Premier, Adnan Menderes, denied the statements of the Syrian and Jordan Foreign Ministers claiming they were not kept informed about the Baghdad treaty negotiations. He declared that Egypt and the other Arab countries had been kept fully informed about the developments during the course of the negotiations.

He expressed regret if the Thousands of students both in the capital and in Aleppo turned out to protest the proposed Turkey-Iraq pact. The students were from school to school, authoring demonstrators, and marched through the streets shouting anti-Turkish slogans.

Burns Asks Israel-Syria Talks on Unarmed Zones

General E. L. M. Burns, Chief of Staff of the U.N.T.S.O., has suggested direct negotiations between Israel and Syria over the demilitarized zone on Israel's northern frontier. In a report to the Security Council, General Burns said a "solution, if agreeable to both sides would be a provisional arrangement for the division of the demilitarized zone into areas in which either Israel or Syria would have administrative responsibility."

At this late date, General Burns said, it would appear impossible to bring conditions in the demilitarized zone into line with the provisions of the Rhodes Armistice. Among other things that agreement called for administration in the demilitarized zone on a local basis under supervision of the Chairman of the MAC. The report, dated January 8 and made public as a Security Council document on Friday, deals exclusively with difficulties in the demilitarized zone. To the 22-page report are attached a Syrian memorandum of December 15, and a 7-page Annex (B) of Israel's observations as well as the text of a MAC resolution of December 15.

The complaints made by Syria involve the presence of Israeli state police there, Israel's claim to sovereignty over the demilitarized zone, the situation in the Arab villages of Baqara and Ghannama, reconstruction of the village of Nughah in which either Israel or Syria has the right to cultivate land in the Twana area, and denial of watering and fishing rights to Arabs on the east shore of Lake Tiberias. It also reports on the failure of the MAC to hold regular meetings since June 1, 1964. The report in full is available to the public.

1. I have the honor to report that on the 15th of December 1964 the Syrian Ministry of Foreign Affairs placed before me a number of complaints as to the observance of the General Armistice Agreement between Israel and Syria, particularly in relation to the three sectors of the Demilitarized Zone defined in Article V.

2. On my return from Damascus I informed the Israeli Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the general nature of these complaints and of my intention of reporting thereon to the Security Council. The Ministry has since furnished me with a statement of its views.

3. The Security Council considered the situation in the Demilitarized Zone in April and May, 1965. The following paragraphs are of my intention of reporting thereon to the Security Council.

(a) Calls upon the Governments of Israel and Syria to bring before the Security Council, through the Chairman of the Mixed Armistice Commission, a statement of their views on the situation in the Demilitarized Zone, and to submit to the Security Council a plan for the reconstruction of the village of Nughah.

(b) Calls upon the Governments of Israel and Syria to bring before the Security Council, through the Chairman of the Mixed Armistice Commission, a statement of their views on the situation in the Demilitarized Zone, and to submit to the Security Council a plan for the reconstruction of the village of Nughah.

(c) Calls upon the Governments of Israel and Syria to bring before the Security Council, through the Chairman of the Mixed Armistice Commission, a statement of their views on the situation in the Demilitarized Zone, and to submit to the Security Council a plan for the reconstruction of the village of Nughah.

C-o-L Index Steady In December

The cost-of-living index for the month of December, 1964, remained at the November level of 223 points, the Central Bureau of Statistics and Economic Research announced on Friday.

Slight rises were registered in the prices of various vegetables, flatbread, and eggs (as a result of the late harvest in the c-o-l, and laundry prices, which were countered by lower prices for other vegetables, citrus and poultry).

The cost-of-living index has advanced as follows: September, 1964 — 100; October, 1964 — 101; November, 1964 — 102; December, 1964 — 103.

No Reprisals Against China-Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, Saturday (Reuter). — President Eisenhower declared today that the U.S. would not take any reprisals against China regarding her detention of the 11 American airmen.

Expressing disappointment at the failure of Mr. Dag Hammarskjöld, U.N. Secretary-General, to obtain release of the airmen during his visit to Peking, the President said that "it will not be easy for us to refrain from giving expression to our thoughts of reprisal. Yet this is what we must do now."

Mr. Eisenhower said, "We must support the U.N. in its efforts as long as those efforts hold out any promise of success."

Hammarskjöld told a press conference yesterday that no deals of any kind had been suggested by either side at the Peking talks. He said there is no possibility of his returning to the Chinese capital as contact could be maintained "without anyone giving up any principle."

He said his visit achieved its purpose. The Chinese Premier gave his views on other questions regarding present international tensions apart from the question of the prisoners.

USSR Offers to Share In Atom Know-How

MOSCOW, Saturday (Reuter). — The Soviet Union yesterday offered the world its atomic know-how, gained in operation of the atomic power stations which were commissioned last July.

In a press conference here, the Soviet Government promised to hand over appropriate details of the scientific and technical experience gained in running the stations to the U.N. Atomic Energy Commission.

The head of the Foreign Ministry's Press Department, Mr. L. Rykover, told correspondents that Russia was doing this in the interests of peaceful utilization of atomic energy and to contribute to the development of international cooperation in this field.

The first electric power station using atomic energy began working in the U.S.S.R. on June 27, according to the Soviet Government announcement. It was said to have a capacity of 5,000 kilowatts, and to be supplying current in industry and agriculture.

Bonn, Paris Leaders Reach Full Accord

BONN, Saturday. — The complete agreement between the French Premier, M. Pierre Mendès-France, and the Chancellor, Dr. Konrad Adenauer, in their meeting yesterday at Baden-Baden, was widely hailed as a landmark in the Franco-German reconciliation.

The Bundestag will vote on the Paris treaties on German reunification in about three weeks. Dr. Adenauer can now tell the "Saar rebels" in Parliament that he and M. Mendès-France reached full accord on a series of points left open when the Franco-German Saar agreement was signed in October.

These extra details will, it is believed, do away with much opposition and should give the Chancellor a comfortable majority.

The outstanding subjects dealt with in the day-long talks yesterday were with East-West relations, aspects of the Saar agreement, the Franco-German problems, and a French proposal for the standardization of certain armaments and rational distribution of the manufacture among all or some of the Western European Union nations.

Regarding the U.S., both countries will ask the U.S. and Britain to guarantee the Franco-German agreement, will ask the U.S. and Britain to set up a committee to study the problems and settle any dispute on a basis within the framework of the U.N.

The passage in the official communiqué referring to the French arms pool proposals takes account of German requirements. It reveals that the Germans will support outstanding features of the French plan at the seven-nation talks on this subject starting in Paris on Monday.

(Italy will support France's plan for a European pool of arms industries even if some other member nations of the Western European Union stay out, the Foreign Minister, Mr. Gaetano Martino, announced at a press conference in Rome.)

Eban Discusses Atom Plan in Washington

WASHINGTON, Saturday (UP). — The Israeli Ambassador, Mr. Eban, met today with Mr. Morris P. Patterson, the U.S. representative in the current international negotiations for the peaceful use of atomic energy.

They discussed Israel's participation in the international atomic agency and the international scientific conference which have been proposed as a means of implementing the "atoms-for-peace" plan, it was understood.

Mr. Eban and Mr. Patterson conferred for nearly an hour. Also present at the meeting was Mr. Reuven Shiloah, the Israeli Minister.

Opportunities for Israel scientists to receive training in the industrial uses of atomic energy were also believed to have been discussed.

Formosans Keep Up Aerial Attacks

TAIPEH, Saturday (UP). — For the fifth successive day, Nationalist planes bombed Chinese positions and junk fleets carrying supplies to islands in the Tachen group.

The aircraft concentrated on Tien, near Tachen, and claimed to have started big fires. Fourteen Chinese propeller-driven fighter-bombers appeared over Tachen yesterday, but dropped no bombs.

SAPLINGS STOLEN

BEKRSHEBA, Saturday. — Forty olive saplings and four crates of tomatoes valued at IL-300 were stolen on Friday from Kibbutz Migdal near Bekrsheba. The police found tracks of two men leading to the Gaza Strip.

Danger to Coalition Said Imaginary

Jerusalem Post Reporter TEL AVIV, Saturday. — While the Executive Committee of the Knesset faction's stand in the current dispute, it is understood unofficially that the danger to the coalition is purely imaginary, and that a modest victory would be enough to found this week without much bargaining.

Hapoel Hamizrabi was reported as having proposed a budget reduction of IL-8.5m. by cutting indirect taxes. The Progressives advocate a reduction of two or three million pounds, mainly by improving administrative efficiency. Spokesmen for both parties insist that they will stand firm.

Moscow Move Called Publicity Trick in US

WASHINGTON, Saturday (UP). — American officials today denounced Moscow's reported offer of "normal relations" with West Germany as a propaganda trick designed to thwart allied approval of the recent Paris Agreement on West German reunification.

Officials at the State Department said the move was a publicity trick designed to thwart allied approval of the recent Paris Agreement on West German reunification.

Authorities noted that the Russians are not willing even yet to offer Germany unification, despite their apparent great zeal to prevent adoption of the Paris security accords. It was commented here that the Russians only offered "to search" for some successful way of solving the unification problem.
